SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATION

In 2002, the Law Revision Commission proposed the amendment or repeal of numerous obsolete constitutional and statutory provisions to reflect the restructuring of the trial court system that occurred in California during the late 1990's. Many other statutes were in need of amendment or repeal but were not included in the 2002 recommendation because they were not yet ripe for revision or, although ripe for revision, they required more time and care to address. This recommendation proposes additional cleanup of statutes made obsolete by trial court restructuring.

This recommendation was prepared pursuant to Government Code Section 71674.

STATUTES MADE OBSOLETE BY TRIAL COURT RESTRUCTURING: PART 2

BACKGROUND

Trial Court Restructuring¹

The trial court system in California was significantly restructured during the late 1990's. The first major trial court restructuring event occurred in 1997 with the passage of the Lockyer-Isenberg Trial Court Funding Act.² That legislation consolidated funding of trial court operations at the state level and established a decentralized system of trial court management.³

The next major event occurred on June 2, 1998, when the voters of California approved Proposition 220,⁴ providing for the unification of municipal and superior courts in a county.⁵ As of February 8, 2001, the courts in all of California's 58 counties have unified.⁶

Effective January 1, 2001, a statewide employment structure for trial court employees, officers and other personnel was implemented. Under the Trial Court Employment Protection and Governance Act,⁷ trial court employees are employees of the court (not of the state or county) and each trial court has control over personnel matters.

Role of Law Revision Commission

As part of the Trial Court Employment Protection and Governance Act, the Legislature directed the California Law Revision Commission to recommend the repeal of statutes made obsolete by trial court funding reform, trial court unification, and trial court employment reform.⁸ The recommendation was due by January 1, 2002.

1. For a more detailed review of the major trial court restructuring events, see Statutes Made Obsolete by Trial Court Restructuring: Part 1, 32 Cal. L. Revision Comm'n Reports 1 (2002).

3. See generally Gov't Code §§ 77000-77655.

4. Proposition 220 became operative the day after the election. Cal. Const. art. XVIII, § 4.

5. Former Cal. Const. art. VI, § 5(e).

6. On November 5, 2002, the voters approved Proposition 48 (operative Nov. 6, 2002), amending the California Constitution to reflect unification of the trial courts. See Cal. Const. art. VI, §§ 1 (judicial power), 6 (Judicial Council), 8 (Commission on Judicial Performance), 10 (original jurisdiction), 15 (qualifications of judges), 16 (election of judges), and 23 (transitional provision); see also former Cal. Const. art. VI, § 5 (municipal court).

8. Gov't Code § 71674.

The Commission submitted its Recommendation on *Statutes Made Obsolete by Trial Court Restructuring: Part 1*⁹ (hereafter the “2002 recommendation”) in response to the legislative directive. The recommendation proposed the amendment and repeal of hundreds of obsolete constitutional and statutory provisions. It was not possible, however, to deal with all statutes made obsolete by trial court restructuring. Some provisions were not addressed because stakeholders had not yet reached agreement on key issues, further research was necessary in light of the complexity of the law, or additional time was required to prepare appropriate revisions due to the large volume of material involved. Consequently, the January 1, 2002, deadline was removed from the statute to allow the Commission to continue its work in this area and recommend further cleanup of the statutes from time to time.¹⁰

This recommendation proposes additional reforms to statutes made obsolete by trial court restructuring. As before, the recommendation addresses some but not all of the statutes in need of revision. The stakeholders have made significant progress in resolving a number of substantive and fiscal issues. However, some key issues remain unsettled.¹¹ In addition, several of the remaining issues and references are complex and require additional research and analysis.¹² The Commission will recommend further reforms from time to time as warranted.

MATTERS COVERED IN THIS RECOMMENDATION

Trial Court Sessions and Facilities

Sessions. Government Code Section 69645, effective January 1, 2003,¹³ authorizes each trial court to determine the number and location of sessions of the court.¹⁴ With this general grant of authority to superior courts, most of the existing sessions statutes can be repealed or amended.

Section 69645 was inadvertently located in an article pertaining to superior court districts. Only Los Angeles County is divided into superior court districts.¹⁵

9. 32 Cal. L. Revision Comm’n Reports 1 (2002). Legislation implementing the Commission’s statutory recommendations was enacted in 2002, effective January 1, 2003. See 2002 Cal. Stat. ch. 784 (SB 1316). A resolution implementing the Commission’s recommended constitutional revisions was adopted by the Legislature (ACA 15) and approved by the voters on November 5, 2002 (Prop. 48, operative Nov. 6, 2002).

10. See 2002 Cal. Stat. ch. 784, § 360.

11. For example, court reporter compensation, judicial benefits, and court-related fees and fines paid to counties.

12. For example, concurrent jurisdiction and local venue.

13. 2002 Cal. Stat. ch. 1008, § 25.

14. It also authorizes a session of the superior court to be held outside of the county of the court under certain circumstances.

15. The proposed law would repeal the existing article pertaining to superior court districts (Gov’t Code §§ 69640-69650) and replace it with a new article (Gov’t Code § 69640) authorizing the Los Angeles County Superior Court to establish superior court districts by local rule. See “Proposed Legislation” infra.

1 Therefore, the proposed law would renumber Section 69645 as Government Code
2 Section 69740.¹⁶

3 The proposed law would also repeal Government Code Section 69741 and 4 Sections 69790 through 69800 as obsolete. Section 69741 requires that regular 5 sessions be held commencing on the first Mondays of January, April, July, and 6 October. That statute further provides that a superior court may hold special 7 sessions at such other times as may be prescribed by the judges of the court, except 8 that in the City and County of San Francisco the presiding judge shall prescribe
9 the times of holding special sessions. Sections 69790 through 69800 authorize
10 extra sessions of the superior court. Historically, extra sessions were held when a 11 need arose in a particular county for a judge from another county to preside over a 12 session of the hosting court.

13 The distinction among regular, special, and extra sessions is contrary to the 14 modern concept that courts are continuously open and may hold session at any 15 time except as specifically prohibited by law.¹⁷ The times specified for the holding 16 of regular sessions are anachronistic and do not reflect the current realities of the 17 judicial system in California. In addition, Article VI, Section 6, of the California
18 Constitution authorizes the Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, as Chair
19 of the Judicial Council, to assign judges to sit on courts in other counties.¹⁸

20 Facilities. The location of a particular session is dependent, to a large degree, on 21 the existence and maintenance of a court facility in the area. The availability and 22 adequacy of facilities for holding a court session at a specific location is a
23 consideration that Section 69645 requires a court to take into account.

24 Court facilities have historically been county structures. In 2002, however, the 25 Legislature enacted the Trial Court Facilities Act,¹⁹ which will unite responsibility
26 for trial court operations and facilities in the state. Under the Act, the transfer of 27 responsibility for the funding and operation of trial court facilities will be 28 negotiated on a building-by-building basis between the state and each county from 29 July 1, 2003, through June 30, 2007.²⁰

30 Inasmuch as the transfer of responsibility will be county and building specific —
31 and may not be completed until 2007 — it is premature to revise facilities
32 provisions at this time. Until the transfers are complete, the existing statutes are 33 not obsolete. Furthermore, even though general policies have been established, the 34 details of each transfer are still subject to negotiation and may vary from county to 35 county. The Commission will continue to monitor the situation and propose 36 appropriate revisions in the future.

16. See proposed addition of Gov't Code § 69740 infra.

17. See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 74, 133, 134.

18. See also Gov't Code § 69741.5 ("There may be as many sessions of a superior court, at the same time, as there are judges elected, appointed or assigned thereto.").

19. 2002 Cal. Stat. ch. 1082, § 4 (eff. Jan. 1, 2003).

20. Id.

1 Trial Court Coordination

2 Several statutes pertain to the coordination of operations of the municipal and 3 superior courts in a county.²¹ The statutes are no longer necessary due to 4 unification of the courts. They would be repealed.²²

5 Jury Commissioners

6 Pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure Section 195, every county has a jury
7 commissioner who is appointed by the judges of the superior court. The jury 8 commissioner is primarily responsible for managing the trial court jury system, but 9 may also perform duties with regard to the selection of jurors for grand juries and 10 juries of inquest.

11 Jury commissioner references appear in provisions of the Code of Civil 12 Procedure, Government Code, and Penal Code. The proposed legislation includes 13 revisions to the jury commissioner provisions and to Penal Code statutes relating 14 to grand jury selection.²³ The proposed revisions would lodge selection-related 15 functions with the jury commissioner rather than with the county clerk or court
16 clerk. Designation of the jury commissioner as the responsible officer with regard
17 to all grand jury selection functions is consistent with other grand jury selection
18 provisions,²⁴ the Trial Court Funding Act,²⁵ Code of Civil Procedure Section 195,
19 and Judicial Council standards.²⁶

20 Other Issues

21 Bail schedules. Penal Code Section 1269b establishes a procedure for the 22 preparation, adoption, and annual revision of uniform countywide bail schedules
23 by superior and municipal court judges. The proposed law would remove the 24 municipal court references and provide for one bail schedule for all bailable crimes
25 (except Vehicle Code infractions). The proposal would also permit superior court
26 judges to adopt a local rule of court governing the procedures for the preparation, 27 adoption, and annual revision of the bail schedule, subject to a default procedure in 28 the event a local rule is not adopted.²⁷

21. Gov't Code §§ 68112, 68112.5, 68114, 68114.5, 68114.6, 68114.7, 68114.9.

22. Government Code Section 68114.7 is not proposed for repeal. It includes provisions regarding judicial benefits, which are still unsettled.

23. See proposed amendments to Penal Code §§ 896, 900, 904, 908, 908.1, 908.2 infra.

24. Penal Code §§ 903-903.4.

25. See Gov't Code § 77003. Under Rule 810(d), Function 2, of the California Rules of Court, the “salaries, wages, and benefits of jury commissioner and jury services staff (including selection of grand jury)” are allowable court operations costs. See also Cal. R. Ct. 810(b) (grand jury selection not excluded from definition of “court operations”).

26. Section 17 of the Standards of Judicial Administration (selection of regular grand jury) provides for the jury commissioner to prepare a list of qualified candidates to be considered for nomination.

27. See proposed amendment to Penal Code § 1269b infra.

1 Juvenile court referees. Welfare and Institutions Code Section 247 provides for 2 the appointment of a juvenile court referee by the presiding judge of the juvenile
 3 court.²⁸ The proposed law would repeal that statute. Under the Trial Court
 4 Employment Protection and Governance Act, the trial court appoints subordinate
 5 judicial officers who serve at the pleasure of the court.²⁹ That statute also requires
 6 the Judicial Council to prescribe minimum qualifications and training
 7 requirements for subordinate judicial officers.³⁰ A conforming change would be
 8 made to Government Code Section 71622 to make clear that the court's authority 9 to appoint and terminate a subordinate judicial officer includes the authority to 10 delegate the appointment or termination decisions (e.g., to the presiding judge of 11 the juvenile court).³¹

12 Local court rules. Code of Civil Procedure Section 575.1 governs the 13 preparation and distribution of local rules of court. The proposed law would 14 amend Section 575.1 to be consistent with the approach used in California Rule of 15 Court 981, as amended effective January 1, 2003, regarding the preparation of and 16 public access to local rules. The proposed law would also eliminate a municipal 17 court reference to reflect trial court unification.³²

18 Traffic hearing officers. References to "traffic hearing officers" in a number of 19 statutes would be revised to reflect the redesignation of traffic hearing officers as 20 "juvenile hearing officers."³³

21 Chaptered out provisions. Some revisions that were proposed in the 22 Commission's 2002 recommendation and included in the implementing legislation
 23 were "chaptered out" by conflicting bills introduced in the same legislative 24 session. Those proposed revisions are reintroduced in this recommendation.³⁴

25 Technical revisions. Other technical cleanup revisions would be made.³⁵

28. The section also provides that the referee serves at the pleasure of the presiding judge. With exceptions, the section requires that the referee have been admitted to practice law in California for at least five years.

29. Gov't Code § 71622.

30. The Judicial Council has promulgated a rule governing the qualifications of a subordinate judicial officer, which is effective January 1, 2003. See Cal. R. Ct. 6.660.

31. See proposed amendment to Gov't Code § 71622 infra.

32. See proposed amendment to Code Civ. Proc. § 575.1 infra.

33. See 1997 Cal. Stat. ch. 679.

34. See proposed amendments to Gov't Code §§ 20437, 71081, 71601 & Penal Code §§ 830.1, 3075 infra.

35. For example, the proposed law would continue an effort begun in the 2002 recommendation to fix references to "the judge or judges" of the superior court. As a result of unification, every superior court now has at least two judgeships. See Gov't Code § 69580 et seq. (number of judges). Where a court has only one judge due to a vacancy or otherwise, a reference to the judges of the court means the sole judge of the court. See Gov't Code § 13 (plural includes singular).

1 CONCLUSION

2 This recommendation does not purport to deal with all remaining statutes made
3 obsolete by trial court restructuring. The Commission will continue to propose
4 reforms addressing obsolete statutes as issues are resolved and time warrants. The 5 fact that this recommendation does not address a particular statute should not be 6 construed to indicate that the Commission has decided that the statute should be
7 preserved over the general restructuring provisions. The statute may be the subject
8 of a future recommendation by the Commission.

The section is also amended to delete the references to former Sections 73 and 142.

The section is also amended to replace the reference to the former “Building and Loan Commissioner” with a reference to the “Commissioner of Financial Institutions.” See 1955 Cal. Stat. ch. 40, § 1; Fin. Code § 210.5(c).

The section is also amended to replace the reference to “building and loan association” with a reference to “savings and loan association.” See 1955 Cal. Stat. ch. 40, § 1.

10 ~~expenditures, plus any amount reduced from the budget for court operations by a~~
11 ~~county as a result of any reduction in state funding made pursuant to Section~~
12 ~~13308, increased by the percentage change in population for the prior calendar~~
13 ~~year and the Trade and Commerce Agency implicit price deflator for state and~~
14 ~~local government for the prior calendar year. The coordination plan for each court~~

21 ~~resources to accomplish increased efficiency in court operations and increased~~
22 ~~service to the public. Any plan disapproved by the Judicial Council shall be~~ 23 ~~revised and resubmitted within 60 days of notification of disapproval. The Judicial~~ 24 ~~Council may by rule exempt courts from the requirement of filing a new~~

26 ~~consolidated administrative functions under a single administrative entity, and (2)~~
27 ~~adopted and implemented a coordination plan in which all courts share each~~
28 ~~other's work so that cases in all of the county's courts are substantially assigned~~
29 ~~without regard to whether a judge is on the superior court or the municipal court,~~
30 ~~and which provides for procedures that implement that sharing of work.~~

31 ~~(b) The coordination plan shall take into consideration the elements specified in~~ 32 ~~standards and rules adopted by the Judicial Council and applicable case processing~~
33 ~~time standards adopted by the Judicial Council. The standards adopted by the~~ 34 ~~Judicial Council shall include, but not be limited to, the following:~~

36 ~~or other types of cases within the jurisdiction of another court.~~

37 ~~(2) The coordinated or joint use of subordinate judicial officers to hear or try~~ 38 ~~matters.~~

39 ~~(3) The coordinated, joint use, sharing or merger of court support staff among~~ 40 ~~trial courts within a county or across counties. In a county with a population of~~ 41 ~~less than 100,000 the coordination plan need not involve merger of superior and~~ 42 ~~justice court staffs if the court can reasonably demonstrate that the maintenance of~~

1 ~~separate administrative staffs would be more cost-effective and provide better~~
2 ~~service.~~

3 ~~(4) The assignment of civil, criminal, or other types of cases for hearing or trial,~~
4 ~~regardless of jurisdictional boundaries, to any available judicial officer.~~

5 ~~(5) The assignment of any type of case to a judge for all purposes commencing~~
6 ~~with the filing of the case and regardless of jurisdictional boundaries.~~

7 ~~(6) The establishment of separate calendars or divisions to hear a particular type~~
8 ~~of case.~~

9 ~~(7) In rural counties, the use of all court facilities for hearings and trials of all~~
10 ~~types of cases and to accept for filing documents in any case before any court in~~
11 ~~the county participating in the coordination plan.~~

12 ~~(8) The coordinated or joint use of alternative dispute resolution programs such~~ 13 ~~as arbitration.~~

14 ~~(9) The unification of the trial courts within a county to the maximum extent~~
15 ~~permitted by the California Constitution.~~

16 ~~(10) The joint development of automated accounting and case-processing~~
17 ~~systems, including joint use of moneys available under Section 68090.8.~~

18 ~~(c) In preparing coordination plans a court or courts in a county may petition the~~ 19 ~~Judicial Council to permit division of the court or courts into smaller~~
20 ~~administrative units where a courtwide plan would impose an undue burden~~ 21 ~~because of the number of judges or the physical location of the divisions of the~~ 22 ~~court or courts.~~

23 ~~(d) In preparing coordination plans, the courts are strongly encouraged to~~ 24 ~~develop a plan that includes all superior and municipal courts in the county.~~

25 Comment. Section 68112 is repealed to reflect:

26 (1) Unification of the municipal and superior courts pursuant to former Section 5(e) of Article
27 VI of the California Constitution. See Sections 70210 (adoption of rules), 70211 (judges), 70212

28 the court shall consider, among other factors, the impact of this provision on court
29 employees pursuant to Section 71634, the availability and adequacy of facilities 30 for holding the court session at the specific location, the efficiency and cost of 31 holding the session at the specific location, any applicable security issues, and the 32 convenience to the parties and the public served by the court. Nothing in this 33 section precludes a session from being held in a building other than a courthouse.

1 provide a party with the right to seek a change of venue unless otherwise provided
2 by statute. No party shall have any right to request the court to exercise its 3 discretion under this section.

4 (c) The Judicial Council may adopt rules that address an appropriate mechanism
5 for sharing of expenses and resources between the court holding the session and 6 the court hosting the session.

7 Comment. Section 69740 continues the substance of former Section 69645 and adds language
8 to subdivision (a) to make clear that a session may be held outside of the courthouse in a private 12 (assignment of judges) (1992 Cal. Stat. ch. 162, § 10).
